

Community health council in planning stages

A five member steering committee spearheaded by the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce has taken the first steps toward setting up a Community Health Council (CHC). The steering committee, represented by Curt Svendsen, reported to Chamber's May 3 meeting that proposed parameters had been worked out, along with a suggested mandate and a proposed board composition. Creation of a mission statement was left up to the CHC when it is formed.

The community health council would cover the area served by the Elk Point Health Centre and Health Unit, and would probably be made up of representatives of FCSS, the Elk Point Health Unit, Mental Health, Frog Lake First Nations, RCMP, Town Council, County of St. Paul Council, Elk Point seniors, Chamber, Interagency, representatives from other community health agencies, and members at large, if feasible.

The mandate of the CHC resulted from much discussion, and would be to "examine the health needs of the community and to make recommendations to the Regional Health Authority (RHA)." This council would work in an advisory capacity only, establishing a bridge and enhancing communications between the community and the RHA. Delegates from the CHC would take their concerns to a Regional Health Council composed of members from the whole region and members of the RHA, or if a Regional Health Council is not formed, directly to the RHA.

Chamber also heard a report on the Trans Canada Trail meeting attended by Gail Kozicky. Communities and interest groups were well represented at the meeting, which was called by a group from Saskatchewan who hope to get the trail routed through the more scenic northern portions of their province, along the historic Carlton Trail rather than following the Trans Canada Highway. Alberta has a TrailNet group which supports the trail being routed through Drumheller, but may be willing to hear what the group favoring the Carlton Trail have to say. A steering committee was set at the St. Paul meeting which hopes to make a presentation to TrailNet.

The longtime tradition of the Chamber hosting the Canada Day Pancake Breakfast will be followed for another year. Volunteers for this event are needed.

Town honors longtime worker

A presentation to Lynn Proskiw, recognizing her ten years of work with the Town of Elk Point FCSS Department and its predecessor, the Community Services Department, highlighted last week's very short Town Council meeting.

Council wrapped up their business in 25 minutes flat, which led them to question the need for two meetings per month during the summer. The matter will be further debated at the May 15 meeting, which will also see Council pass their 1995 budget and announce the mill rate for this taxation year.

Good news was forthcoming from the Minister of Municipal Affairs regarding the Education Tax. This will cost the Town approximately $32,000 less than last year, but the schools will get more revenue than before due to the amount being based on student numbers. The decreased education tax will help Council hold the line on taxes.

LIONS WALK-A-THON RAISES $1850 - Fourteen participants, the youngest only four years old, along with two dogs, completed a ten kilometer walk on Saturday to earn $1850 in pledges for the Elk Point Lions Club's annual Walk-A-Thon for Sight. Trophies went to youngest walker Terry White and most senior walker Marshall Kachmar, as well as to Elk Point Elementary students Kristin and Kathryn Campbell for the School Challenge and to Dixie Wood for the Most Pledges Raised by an Individual ($463). Kachmar, representing Kudu Industries, also edged out E-Can's Diane Huffman for the Oil Patch Challenge. First three female finishers were Meghan O'Neill, 1 hour 34 minutes, Dixie Wood, 1:42, Shaina Gadowski, 1:42.5, while the first three males to complete the course were Michael Povaschuk, 57 minutes, Aaron Young, 1:09 and Gary O'Neill, 1:09.12. Medallions went to all participants.

Liberation: a first-hand view

Fifty years ago, Louis Verhagen was a boy of 14, living in the community of Haren, near Groningen, in northeast Holland. The spring of 1945 brought to his homeland not only an end to a winter of hardship and starvation, but also liberation from the terrible war which had dominated the past five years.

One day before the 50th anniversary of the liberation of Holland, Verhagen told his story of this traumatic time to the Grade 11 and 12 social studies students of F. G. Miller High School.

Verhagen clearly remembered the arrival of the Canadian soldiers in his village. "One of them had a piece of bread in his hand. It was perfectly white, and it looked like cake. It was the first white bread I had seen in years." These Canadians were an advance party, and they withdrew after leaving food for the hungry residents. The Germans came back to the village that night, but were gone again the next morning when the Canadians returned with more assistance.

The war started for Holland on May 10, 1940. Germany assumed that being a small country, it could be taken over in 24 hours. In reality, it took five days, which so angered the Germans that they destroyed the centre of Rotterdam.

When the war began, Verhagen and his family lived in Hengelo, the salt capital of Holland. Two years later, they moved to Haren, and his doctor father rented some land from a farmer, and arranged that the farmer would raise potatoes and beans for him on that land. The Verhagens had plenty of these vegetables for their own use, plus some to trade for other foodstuff. Things did not go that well for many of their countrymen, with the people of the western part of Holland reduced to eating tulip bulbs during the final winter of the war, in order to survive. Verhagen recalled bags of potato peels being sold for the equivalent of Terri Elhert thanked the Chamber members for their great response to a request for material for the Welcome Package. She displayed a basket brimming with information about the community, discount coupons and welcome gifts. She also told Chamber that Seniors' Week will be coming up June 4 to 10, and that Information Night is scheduled for September 19. She reported briefly on Interagency's Crisis Intervention discussions, and on the transfer of responsibility regarding the delivery of children's services to the community in 1997. Town

Administrator Curt Svendsen expressed concern regarding the amount of work this type of program would load onto volunteers, and Ms Elhert agreed, saying the community's volunteers "are already stretched to the limit."

Barb Croteau of the Merchants' Committee suggested that school students be encouraged to participate in the Spruce-Up program, as this might cut down on vandalism which plagued some of the adopted planters last year.

The Chamber has decided to mark Seniors Week by holding their June 7 meeting at noon, and inviting seniors who were previous members of the Chamber, as well as current members who are seniors, to attend the meeting.

Tourism chairman Vicki Brooker reported that Sherry Pelech has been hired to operate the Tourist Information Centre for another summer, and that a recent meeting of interested communities, held in Kitscoty, had resulted in good networking and plans for further meetings to discuss joint promotions.

Mel Ryks reminded the Chamber about the Community Advisory Policing Committee's Town Hall Meeting on May 10, 7 p.m. at the Elks Hall.

$250, while the potatoes themselves would have been worth many times that amount.

In 1943, J father and numerous other physicians signed a proclamation claiming that health conditions had become intolerable, and were risking the lives of the residents to dysentery and other diseases. These doctors were sent before the German High Command, who took exception to the tone of the document and sent those who signed it to a concentration camp. However, two weeks later, the High Command decided that to incarcerate all the doctors could cause disease to flourish and their own men might be at risk, and released them.

Holland in wartime meant German bombers overhead at night, Royal Air Force and RCAF fighters in the daytime, and much time spent running for air raid shelters and cellars at the summons of air raid sirens. The 12 and 13 year olds, Verhagen said, were not always in the shelters when the planes went over: "We were on the rooftops waving to them." He also recalled watching the V1 and V2 bombs, which were like unmanned planes, being sent off toward England by the Germans. "We watched them with great interest. Some came right back, and then it was time for us to duck. At least the British had time to shoot them down before they were hit."

Verhagen felt that the ordinary German soldiers "didn't like the situation any better than we did," but in many cases, their families at home were dead, and to have refused to carry on would have meant facing a firing squad.

Verhagen's father was one of the many people involved in the underground movement, but would never talk about his experiences. Many veterans have the same reaction to the war, and Verhagen sympathizes with them. "They have seen their comrades, their buddies, blown to bits, or shot and suffering. They, like we, don't want it to ever happen again - the war, the occupation."

Fifty years later, Verhagen is the president of Elk Point's Royal Canadian Legion branch, and is busily planning for the dedication of a new cenotaph, hopefully on another historic date: VJ (Victory in Japan) Day, August 14, 1995.

F.C.S.S. News

Wanted: information on seniors! Can you help?

Seniors' Week is June 4-10, 1995. This year's theme is "Take Time to Remember" and everyone is encouraged to be part of the celebration. Seniors, families and friends are encouraged to submit announcements of anniversaries and birthdays as well as any anecdotes or special memories they have. These will then be published in a Seniors Week insert in the Elk Point Review. So... take time to remember... and submit those special memories and announcements to the FCSS Office before May 15, 1995!

NEED A HAND WITH SPRING CLEANING?

It's that time of year again... spring cleaning time! If you need a hand with housecleaning, yard work, cleaning windows, etc. give FCSS a call. We'll try to set you up with someone who will do spring cleaning for a nominal charge. For more information call FCSS at 724-3800.

SOMETHING TO LOOK FORWARD TO

Here's something to look forward to on Tuesday, May 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lyle Victor Albert Centre in Bonnyville (4801-49 Street): Running Through the Devil's Club. In this play, a dynamic group of eight performers share the stories of struggles of survivors of sexual abuse. This theatre experience promotes self-discovery and healing. Running Through the Devil's Club is 80 minutes in length and is followed by an informal, professionally-led discussion. Don't miss it. Admission will be by donation at the door, with people contributing whatever they can afford. For further information, call 826-3986 or 826-2120.

ON ACCEPTANCE

And acceptance is the answer to all my problems today. When I am disturbed, it is because I find some person, place, thing or situation - some fact of my life - unacceptable to me, and I can find no serenity until I accept that person, place, thing or moment. Nothing, absolutely nothing happens in God's world by mistake. Unless I accept life completely on life's terms, I cannot be happy. I need to concentrate not so much on what needs to be changed in the world as on what needs to be changed in me and my attitudes.

FIRE DISASTER

Derrick and Shirley Quinney lost their home and contents in a disastrous fire.

Community support is needed to donate items to assist the family. There are 6 children: 17 year old daughter and 5 sons aged 17, 14, 8, 6 and 4. Donations can be dropped off at FCSS from 8:30 - 4:30 Monday through Thursday... or at the United Church. Thanks for your support!

WILD ROSE FOUNDATION

Hot off the press! The Wild Rose Foundation Revised Quarterly Grants Application Guidelines (phew!) are now available. The Application Guidelines (that's better!) have been revised through an extensive consultation with community groups involved in completing applications for funding. The groups had many suggestions for change which have been incorporated into the revised document.

The revised document is user friendly and utilizes plain English. Copies are available at the FCSS Office or by phoning the Rite Number 310-0000 and asking for 422-9305.

Family Matters

Tantrums as a means of communication

By Dr. Arnold Rincover
Child Behavioral Psychologist

A child's tantrum and aggressive behavior is high on the list of parenting concerns during early child-rearing years. Parents must realize that children who have tantrums are trying to communicate their feelings, thoughts and a high level of frustration. This communication tells a parent what the child does or does not want. The goal for both parent and child is to find a more appropriate way to communicate.

Dr. Carr, a professor at the State University of New York, conducted research on child tantrums and aggression. Carr taught children in several different studies to give appropriate verbal requests to their parents instead of having tantrums to get their way. He found that this decreased the rate of tantrums by over 90 percent. The children soon learned how to ask for what they wanted. These children no longer had to resort to tantrums as a means of communication.

There are some important implications of Carr's research. Firstly, "bad" behavior does not mean that there is something wrong with the child. The child has not learned an appropriate way to communicate. Secondly, parents do not have to stop the "bad" behavior before teaching the child how to properly communicate. Teaching the child to communicate properly will inevitably rid the adverse behavior.

If a child is having tantrums, it is up to the parent to teach the child how to communicate verbally. If a child asks properly for something, even if prompted by an adult, the parent should comply. When the child has a tantrum, the parent should not give in to the child. Tantrums should never appear to work in letting the child have his/her way.

Sometimes, of course, parents cannot comply with the child's requests. A parent can still allow an appropriate request to "work" by introducing a delay. If it is not convenient to do something at that time, it can be suggested to do it after dinner or later in the day. The parent must honor their commitment. Similarly, if a child wants a toy the parent can agree to purchase the toy at a later date for a birthday or other special occasion.

Parents should realize that tantrums are quite common in children. The sooner a parent acts to correct this behavior, the better it will be. Correcting this behavior will not take place overnight. Parents must be patient when teaching their children not to use tantrums as a way of communicating.

Hospital Auxiliary in 20th year of service

The Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary was organized on March 31, 1976, and has been helping to serve the community ever since.

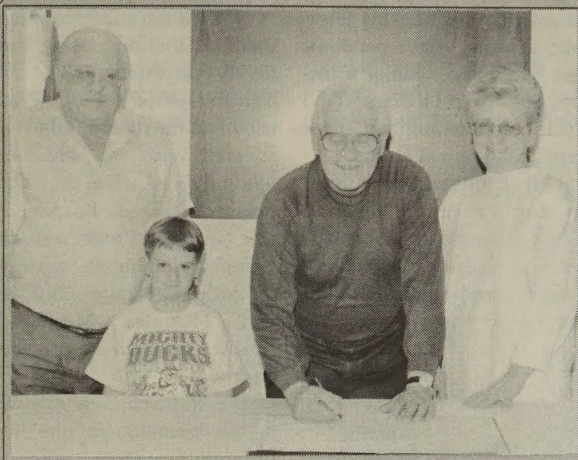

The group started with 16 members, with that number growing to 33 by the end of the year. At present, there are 18 members involved in three areas of activity: volunteer in-service within the hospital, public relations and fundraising.

Auxiliary members give their time for personal, friendly visits to patients, and also to operate the canteen. The canteen doubles as a fundraising venture, offering such items as giftware and handmade items, and a place where patients may purchase small items of personal needs.

Money raised through the canteen, as well as through special events such as their upcoming bake sale, bazaar and tea at Parkview Extended Care, are used to purchase equipment and other items for the use of patients. Over the years, these funds have been used for wheelchairs, radios, lounges, walkers, overbed tables, blood pressure apparatus, air pressure mattresses, hydrocollator, intravenous poles, Recussi-Annie and Recussi-Junior, wax bath, hi-lo beds, color television, geriatric chairs, pediatric mist tent, fetal heart Doppler, patient lift, physio pulleys, exercise bike, muscle tester, baby swings, lounge chairs, playpen and swing-o-matic, as well as many other helpful items. During the period from March 1976 to December 31, 1993, the value of these purchases totalled $65,145.58.

The Auxiliary also helps to prepare for special occasions, by making tray favors for patients at Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, Valentine's and St. Patrick's Days. They also give a gift to each year's Christmas baby.

A special Auxiliary project was initiated in 1988, when member Hughie Krucik and her friends started bringing pets to visit the patients. These visits occur once a month, and are much looked forward to by the patients.

4-Hers enjoy their craft and cooking achievement day

By Lorraine Danyluk
Elk Point 4-H MultiClub

Saturday, April 29 marked the end of a very productive season for a group of creative kids. These children have been meeting on Friday nights, since October for an evening of crafts and cooking. Cheri Lindquist provided this opportunity, after consulting with a few other moms who agreed this would be a wonderful way to channel energy and stimulate creativity. The size of the group soon grew to 22 members.

The group operated under the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club. Last year, in Alberta, eligible 4-H members had to be 10 years old as of January 1. This is changing to 9 years old as of January 1 for the next club year, starting September 1, 1995. This year provided the opportunity for kids to explore some projects that 4-H offers, as most of the group was under the minimum age. Eight members of this group had registered 4-H projects, 4 craft, 3 clothing and 1 nutrition.

An Achievement Day was held on Saturday, April 29 in the Home Ec room at the High School to conclude this energetic venture. Eight peewees, ages 7 to 9 and 5 junior members, ages 10 to 14, displayed 5 articles each for judging. These were a Standwood stuffed animal kit (handsewn), a button-up dog or cat, a recycled design, a simple craft of choice and 6 chocolate chip cookies. Judges Carol Hellquist and Sharon Kuhn had a difficult but enjoyable time scoring the many entries. They were very impressed with the handiwork of the children and encouraged them to continue using their newly acquired skills. The Danish method of judging was used and the display table was covered with red, blue and white ribbons when they were finished. Amanda Korpan, the sole Nutrition Project member, brought a lemon meringue pie for judging. Travis Lindquist and Nicholas Myshaniuk thanked the judges for their efforts.

The children then gathered in the kitchens for one final brownie making session. While the brownies baked, the overall Peewee winners were announced. Kirsty Lindquist and Eva Gusnowski tied for first place, Nichole Havener placed second, and tied for third place were Travis Lindquist and Maureen Myshaniuk. The overall Junior winners for the day were Monica Naber, first, Bronwyn Bilak, second, and April Gusnowski, third.

Mrs. Lindquist was thanked for her leadership and presented with a bouquet of flowers. Her incentive and expertise provided the children with productive and enjoyable learning sessions.

Those in attendance were then treated to freshly baked brownies and juice.

CELEBRATING THEIR ACCOMPLISHMENTS - The members of the crafts and cooking projects and leader Cheri Lindquist (right) enjoyed their achievement day, looking back on many impressive accomplishments.

FGM students learn job interview skills

Graduation is getting very near for the Grade 12 students of F. G. Miller High School, and they will soon be out in the world looking for employment. PanCanadian Petroleum gave these students a little boost up the job-seeking ladder last week, when they provided a classroom workshop on interview skills, followed by a series of actual interviews at the Pan Canadian office.

Trent Dixon, senior analyst at Pan Canadian's employment group, Vicki Cox, analyst of campus recruiting, Monique Mills of corporate communications, Anne Burke of Community Relations and Ian Huffman from Pan Canadian's Elk Point office were on hand for the session.

Students were given tips on how to get through a job interview successfully, from preparation to the interview itself, to after the interview. They were told that preparing for the interview is very important, and that they should know all they can about the company where they are hoping to work. Resumes and the accompanying cover letter should be focused on the job they are applying for, with the cover letter being specific but brief. Applicants should also be prepared to list their accomplishments both in work situations and their private lives.

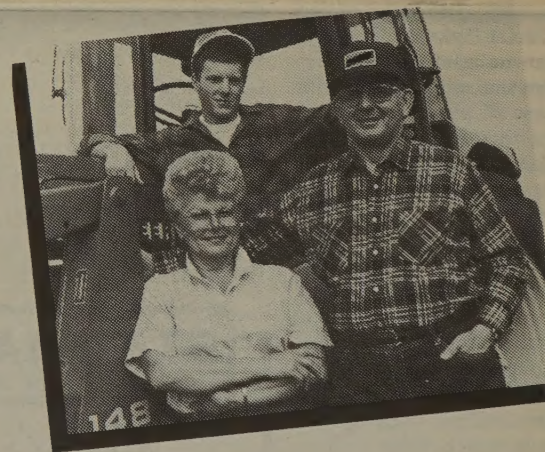

After a morning of instruction, the students were then well versed on the skills they would put to the test in the afternoon, when they visited the Pan Canadian office to be interviewed.

INSIGHT ON INTERVIEWS - was given to the F. G. Miller Grade 12s by Vicki Cox (right) and Trent Dixon, representatives of Pan Canadian Petroleum's employment division, who visited the school last week.

Northern Expressions inaugural art show a huge success

Elk Point's Northern Expressions art group hosted a very successful show this past weekend, with the work of 32 creative and talented artists on display.

Close to 200 pieces made up the show, including paintings in watercolor, oil and acrylic, and other artwork in ink, pastels and charcoal. Ceramics done in several techniques, the painstaking woodcraft of insartia, and the unusual craft of antler carving were included in the show.

Subjects covered a wide range, from flowers and scenery to portraits, from very traditional to modern art, with something for everyone to say of, "I like that one the best."

Among the local artists displaying at the show were Ralph Kryvenchuk, Grace Kinjerski, Darlene Lalonde, Donna Lypka, Mae Hendrickson, Evelyn Babcock, Dawn Bruins, Shirley Kinneberg, Susan Lokken, Linda Hymanyk, Jackie Heagy, Pearl Bepalko, Wayne Hymanyk, Terry Hebblethwaite and David Svendsen. Other artists included Tom Cooper, Val Dunn and Marg Wengel of Grand Centre; Juliette Lafleur, Brian Misanchuk and Cecilia Desilva of St. Paul; Leonard Franko and Janat Franko of Myrnam; Winnie Mathison-Waddell, Elenor Cleland and Vera Cameron of Vermilion; Ellen Ulfsten, Ardmore; Tibor Adam and Audrey Harvey, Lloydminster; Cheryl Spooner and Gloria J. Brice, Bonnyville; and Larry Anderson, Clandonald.

ARTWORK ON DISPLAY - ranged from the intricate insartia woodcraft by St. Paul's Robin Misanchuk (left) to the more traditional media, such as the oil paintings by Shirley Kinneberg which shared the stage.

Spruce Up Elk Point starts second year

A committee headed by Gail Kozicky once again plans to "Spruce Up Elk Point." Ms Kozicky told the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce that the project was very successful last year, with numerous businesses adopting and taking care of planters, and thanked the Chamber for taking part.

Planters were adopted by Stedmans, Northbound 41, In Days of Olde, Woody's Trophy and Gift, Hillside Service, Co-Op, Mrs. Modin, Elk Point Review, Elk Point Tourist Information Centre and the Lioness Club, who planted the large triangular bed at the corner of 50th Ave. and 50th Street.

The Hilltop Motor Inn brightened up their area by planting trees, Benner's Greenhouse donated a generous supply of bedding plants, the 4-H Multi Club donated shrubs. The Town of Elk Point, Jeannine's Fashions and Elk Point Insurance all helped make the town a pretty place to be.

One of the most valuable assistants in the group will not be with them this year. Vern King, who refurbished the Chamber's notice board with the assistance of Sonny Veenstra and who helped in many other ways, has left the community.

This year the group would like to see mature trees planted in the downtown area, and even more areas brightened up with flowers. She hopes everyone will keep in mind the Town's May 16 Clean-Up Day and have their winter debris gathered up for collection at that time.

With over 150,000 miles of buried facilities throughout Alberta, knowing exactly what's beneath your construction project is crucial. Damaging one buried facility could cost your company thousands of dollars in repair work - or possibly a life. Don't let this happen to you. Call Alberta One-Call, at least two full working days before you dig, and find out where the hidden hazards are at no cost to you. Just remember, it's your responsibility to hand expose these facilities before you proceed. So call Alberta One-Call and be safe on the job instead of sorry.

What's News at the Library?

A great experience: the Alberta Library Conference

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

I began this column while I was sitting in the Great Hall of the Jasper Park Lodge watching the sun bounce off the snow in the mountains. The 1995 Alberta Library Conference had just wrapped up and my need for sleep was fighting with my need to capture my thoughts and impressions. It was my first time at the Jasper conference and everything I was told about the event is true and then some. Following is my list of the Top Ten Things about the Alberta Library Conference...

10. Location: The scenery and facilities at Jasper Park Lodge are so great you couldn't have a bad time if you wanted to.

9. Food: WOW!!!

8. Weather: It wasn't great but we didn't have a blizzard and the sun did shine on occasion.

7. Company: warmer than the weather (much warmer!).

6. Conference sessions: Informative and uplifting. The author talks by Murry Kimber and Mary Woodbury were the perfect finale for Friday evening.

5. Food: I know I mentioned it before but the food at the Lodge is so phenomenal it deserves another mention. Fresh fruit at every meal, an all you can eat buffet with a variety of salads, breads and desserts.

4. Prizes: I won a book.

3. Entertainment: Bob Robertson of Double Exposure, a Saturday morning favorite at the library, brought along his impressions of Pierre, Joe, Brian and Jean for a keynote address. The singing group Voce managed to insert library references into their repertoire of songs on Saturday night.

2. Duvets on the beds: They were so puffy I couldn't fit one hopes of learning ways to control the chaos in my office. My hopes are put on hold for a while but I am determined to prevail. (I think my desk top is wood but I'm not sure.)

LIBRARY CALENDAR:

SPRINGTIME IN THE ROCKIES - and Michele enjoyed every minute of her visit to Jasper Park Lodge.

in my luggage.

AND THE NUMBER ONE THING...

1. Reunion: Several of my classmates and professors from library school also attended. I hadn't seen them in two years. It was nice to catch up.

I did attend a records management workshop in the Sunday, May 21 - The Friends of the Library have a bingo in St. Paul. Interested volunteers can sign up at the library.

Saturday, May 27 - The library will be having a used book sale. Paperbacks, fiction, non-fiction and magazines at unbelievable prices. Stock up

DID YOU KNOW:

Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Roald Amundsen both auditioned for the role of Santa by flying over the North Pole in 1926, Byrd on May 9 and Amundsen on May 12. (Neither got the part... the role went to Edmund Gwenn who won an Academy award for Miracle on 34th Street in 1947 for Best Supporting Actor.)

'I Want To Be A Millionaire' program enters third year

In recognition of today's changing job market and future employment prospects and the need for communities to invest in its future entrepreneurs, the Board of Directors of St. Paul/Smoky Lake Business and Community Development Corporation gave approval at their April 19 board meeting for the "I Want To Be A Millionaire" Program for the third straight year. This Program relates to the educational opportunities for business and entrepreneurs. The "I Want To Be A Millionaire" Program has been successful in the past two years in the St. Paul/Smoky Lake region in providing youth with an experience based on orientation "in," not "to" entrepreneurship. Participants have made money, but the greatest gain is the positive self esteem, new found confidence and an understanding of what it means to be an "entrepreneur".

The program is based on building multiple participation ownership by a MAXIMUM number of community elements and groups. Your group, youth or you as an individual can take part. Your involvement can be as simple as baking some cookies for a workshop, all the way through to a donation, no matter how small. The Corporation invites members of the communities within the region to get involved in the program by becoming a mentor or a volunteer and in the costs for training, registration, seed capital ($100/student to start business), youth workbooks, postage, advertising, promotional materials, workshops and celebration at end of the program.

The benefit of this sponsorship enables youth to move from entrepreneurially curious to entrepreneurially experienced. A community that does not provide such a simplistic approach and demonstration of belief in its enterprising youth is in danger of losing a future employer, entrepreneur or self employed taxpayer.

By combining local expertise, seed capital and mentoring, it is possible to nurture these talents, but only if a community is prepared to model excellent support and leadership.

Your effort to excite youth about entrepreneurship as early as possible will foster their business comprehension in later years and help to cultivate the entrepreneurs of tomorrow. The benefits of the Program to youth are that it takes the mystery out of small business, allows them to own and operate their own micro business, links them with experienced community development and business leaders and allows them to see and read about their peer through local networking and an overall Program newsletter. Entrepreneurial spirit is developed, students get excited about running their own business and are exposed to taking risks.

The "I Want To Be A Millionaire" program originated in Cumberland County, Nova Scotia where a community based development group desired to draw youth into the fabric of the community and its economic realities, through an experience based introduction to owning their own micro enterprise. Encouragement rather than structure has been the key to its success and application for youth all across Canada and now internationally. It has reached and fulfilled all of its original goals.

The Program teaches "self reliance" in the most informative years and builds on the ethics of responsibility and accomplishment. It supplies the seed capital, committed people/adults, a proven approach, the materials to support and guide it, a national network, local leadership, hope, summer jobs for youth who otherwise can't get them because of age, height, geography, economics, etc. This opportunity builds tomorrow's leaders. It cultivates better future employees, business people and citizens.

The Program is scheduled so that project promotion, application process and interviews occur in April-May, four workshops (orientation, record keeping, marketing and promotion, customer service and quality) are held in May-June, start business operations (usually late June, beginning of July) monitoring and mentoring from June -October, celebration and display in October/November and evaluation and reporting at completion.

St. Paul/Smoky Lake Business and Community Development Corporation is confident that the communities in the region will recognize the benefits of the program and provide their support.
